

BUSINESS ARCHITECTURE PRACTICE COMPONENTS

Business Architecture Practice Components consist of three essential categories: Architecture, Team and Practice. These work together to ensure that an organization's business architecture is designed and applied with consistency and integrated across the enterprise for maximum efficiency. As a business architecture practice matures, it is able to deliver increased value to the organization and can scale to meet the growing demand.